

Necropsy of 87 adult stray dogs collected from different localities in Beni-Suef Governorate, Egypt, revealed the prevalence of helminth parasites among 93.10% of them. Trematodes were found to infect 20.69%, cestodes 64.37% and nematodes 74.71% .